Courses

Where is God in All of This? Spirituality and Recovery Greg Krausz, MA, CAADC, LPC

September 17, 2021
9 AM to 4 PM

Where is God in all of this? A question that often presents itself to people in the midst of challenges and changes. Even more so for those entering recovery from substance use. This training will focus on understanding what spirituality is and isn't and the differences between spirituality and religion. Ideas on how to integrate spirituality into services, spiritual practices and how to utilize spirituality to aid in recovery will be discussed.

Objectives:

Participants will:

- Identify definitions of religion, spirituality, addiction
- Identify spiritual practices that can assist in recovery
- Understand how spirituality influences and supports recovery practice
- Identify skills to integrate spirituality into counseling

Biography

Greg Krausz is a Licensed Professional Counselor and CAADC. He is the Director of Mid Atlantic Rehabilitation Services (MARS) in Bethlehem, PA. Greg is also owner of Monocacy Counseling Associates, an Adjunct Faculty member at Moravian Theological Seminary, and a Consultant/Trainer with the Council on Compulsive Gambling of PA.

Greg is a member of First Baptist Church in Bethlehem, PA and a graduate of Moravian Theological Seminary in 2002 with a Master's Degree in Pastoral Counseling.

Greg has been a counselor and program director in the addiction and mental health counseling field for the past 26 years. He was awarded the 2016 Bishop Kortz award for excellence in the field of Pastoral Counseling from Moravian Theological Seminary.

CRS Supervision Training
William Stauffer, CADAC, CCS, LSW

October 21-22, 2021
9 AM to 4 PM

A group of Subject Matter Experts teamed up to create the seven Certified Recovery Specialist Core Competencies for Supervision in June 2017. Over the course of this two-day training, each of the supervisory core competencies will be reviewed and discussed at length in a comprehensive manner that will further specify the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to provide peer leadership through appropriate supervision and enhance the quality of supervision within peer services in our state.

Please see the link below for detailed information about the core competencies.

Communication: Conflict or Harmony? Facilitating Effective Meetings and Groups

Sarah Falwell, BS, CADC

This course consists of two segments. The first will focus on how communication styles influence and impact our interactions with others—fellow staff and clients included. The way we communicate can lead to conflict or can create harmony. Participants will examine their communication style and learn how they can achieve balance. Attention will be paid to de-escalation skills and working effectively with clients in the criminal justice system. The second segment will provide tips and techniques for your ‘toolbox’ when facilitating meetings and groups. These can include meetings with colleagues and groups with clients. How do you engage people, hold their attention, keep the conversation going, and ensure productivity?

These will be very interactive trainings so attendees should come prepared to participate.

Course Objectives

Participants will be able to:

1. Identify their communication style
2. Discover how to achieve balance between conflict and harmony
3. Learn skills to effectively manage meetings with colleagues
4. Learn tools to effectively lead groups with clients

Biography

Sarah Falwell has been in the Human Services field for over 17 years. While obtaining her Bachelor’s degree from East Stroudsburg University, she completed her internship at Monroe County Correctional Facility. Upon graduating, Sarah worked primarily in the Criminal Justice system before transitioning to Treatment Trends, Inc. in 2007. She obtained her CADC in 2009, while working as a counselor at Keenan House. In 2013 she added Utilization Review Coordinator to her duties, while maintaining a caseload and running groups.

In 2017, Sarah progressed in her career to the Utilization Review Manager for both White Deer Run-Lehigh County Center for Recovery and White Deer Run-Blue Mountain.

In 2018, Sarah returned to Treatment Trends, Inc. as the Quality Assurance Coordinator for the entire organization. All of the experiences and knowledge from her previous roles has helped Sarah to function effectively and comprehensively in her current role providing leadership for Treatment Trends as the Chairperson of the Safety Committee, the Corporate Compliance Officer, and QA Coordinator.
